TV Debates By Dick, Jack Open Tonight

CHICAGO (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy confront each other face-to-face tonight before a nationwide television audience in the first of a series of 20th Century debates that will add steam to the presidential campaign.

Their head-on exchange of basic policies, an electronic suggestion of the famous debates 102 years ago between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas, will take place in an air-conditioned studio of the Chicago outlet of the Columbia Broadcasting System, WBBM-TV.

The hour-long program dealing primarily with domestic issues starts at 9:30 p.m. EDT, and will be carried by the National Broadcasting Co., American Broadcasting Co., and the Mutual Radio Network, as well as CBS which is serving as host for this first of four Nixon-Kennedy appearances. They will have an audience estimated by the broadcasting industry at between 60 and 100 million Americans, plus millions more overseas via the government's Voice of America and the British Broadcasting Co.

As far as open conflict is concerned, Kennedy and Nixon have been skirmishing lightly thus far in the campaign for the White House. There has been some sniping and counterfire over Nixon's feeling that Kennedy should not discuss American shortcomings with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in the country, but this has been somewhat intermittent. Tonight might change that situation.

Kennedy and Nixon regard the first debate as critical to their campaigns, but probably not decisive.

Kennedy's advisers first considered the debates as a make-or-break factor in the campaign. But now, bolstered by large crowds on the campaign trail, Kennedy's advisers feel the debates are somewhat less monumental.

Nixon's aides feel the debates may have particular impact on (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

Yesterday's high was 65 degrees at 2 p.m. The low this morning was 58 at 5 o'clock.

Firearms Charge Mike O'Shea In Italy, Trial Again Delayed

The trial of motion picture actor Michael O'Shea for carrying a firearm without a license was delayed again today in Bucks County Court because the actor instead of appearing in Doylestown has gone to Rome, Italy, to make a new film.

President Judge Edward G. Biester said the district attorney's office has not yet requested a bench warrant. O'Shea had posted $500 bail.

He was arrested at the request of Dr. Glenn W. Bricker, Levittown physician, who said the actor carried a .38 calibre revolver in the lobby of the Bristol Motel Aug. 24, 1959.

The missing actor was represented in court this morning by attorneys Samuel Dash, former Philadelphia district attorney, and Jack Sirota of Levittown.

He said he did not plan to appear on the grounds that he was unable financially to make the trip, and produce witnesses.

O'Shea explained he had a contract to make a film in Rome with his wife, Virginia Mayo, (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

'Jug' Game Lands Youth In The 'Jug'

A battle of fists and stones which broke out at the close of Saturday's football game between Burlington and Bristol High Schools at the Burlington field, today threatened to sever athletic relations between the two schools.

One youth, David Davis, Camden, N.J., was still being held this morning by Burlington police on charges of assaulting an officer and Sgt. Anthony Greski of the Burlington reserve police force was severely injured as a result of the melee, which officers termed a near riot.

Carmen Mignoni, president of the Bristol school board, said today that unless assurances can be obtained that a similar "donnybrook" does not recur, he will be in favor of breaking off football relations between the two schools and ending the annual battle for the traditional Little Brown Jug.

Bristol lost the game, and the jug, 12-6.

Players Start Fight

Bad blood has existed between the two schools, especially over football games, since the 1920's, Mignoni said, and the games were stopped for this reason between 1937 and 1943.

Saturday's fracas broke out shortly after two players, one for each team, exchanged swings toward the end of the game and reserves swarmed out from both benches. Fans surged toward the field, too, from the Burlington stands, but the reserve police quickly restored order.

After the game, however, things were quite different.

Swings At Policeman

Someone threw a rock toward the Bristol players and taunts and threats were yelled at them.

Four Parked Autos Damaged In Bristol

The four cars were owned by Glenn Shelley, 518 Bath St.; Fred Leedom, 546 Bath St.; Philip H. Walsh, 313 Godfrey Ave., Philadelphia, and the Lamar Corp. of Winchester, Va. According to police Shelley's car was a total wreck.

Miss Lutz was taken to Lower Bucks County Hospital and released.

The campaign goal of $544,000 has been confirmed by the fund's board of directors and campaign leaders throughout the county have expressed confidence that the goal can be reached if the present pace of the campaign is continued during October.

And early advisory from John Catzin, chairman in Lower Bucks, indicates that the advanced gifts solicitation is more than half way completed. The final report is expected on or about Oct. 5. Meanwhile, solicitation is under way in all industrial firms throughout the county. Early reports from the Central Bucks area chairman, William Roth, indicate that an increase in industrial giving may be expected to be as high as 25 per cent over last year.

Ike Raps Advocates Of Deficit Spending

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—President Eisenhower today attacked advocates of deficit spending as "political cowards" and said it would endanger U.S. security more than military weakness.

The Chief Executive declared that "nothing can more surely weaken our nation at home and abroad than such irresponsible spending."

His remarks were a thinly veiled thrust at Democrats. Eisenhower used the same language to denounce Democratic-backed legislative proposals during the last Congress.

Hit By Car, Youth Suffers Broken Foot

Stanley Kuklas, 16, 429 Holly Drive, Levittown, suffered a broken right foot last night when he was struck by a car while walking on Oxford Valley Road near the Pennsylvania Turnpike, Bristol Township police reported this morning.

The police said the car which struck Kuklas was driven by Richard Foraker, 18, 209 Main St., Tullytown.

The mishap occurred shortly after 9 p.m. No charges were brought against the driver, according to the police.

Admitted to Lower Bucks County Hospital with the fracture of the foot and several lacerations, Kuklas is reported in fair condition today.

Officer Patrick Dunlavy investigated.

Car Smashes Window At Bristol Store

An automobile driven by John R. Leach, 17, 61 Shoemaker Drive, Bristol Terrace I, swerved out of control late Saturday night and smashed into the display window of Henry A. Perotti's plumbing shop, 1016 Beaver St., Bristol, police said today.

The car smashed a plate-glass window, cracked the wall and damaged a custom-kitchen display with various appliances, according to Perotti, causing an estimated $5,000 damage. No one was in the shop at the time.

The car was immobilized and, police say, Leach wandered away, making his way on foot to police headquarters where he reported the accident. He suffered abrasions of the arm but no other injuries.

Noise Fills U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — U.N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjold today rejected Soviet pressure to resign and received thunderous applause from delegates who rallied to his support.

Hammarskjold also spoke out against Premier Nikita Khrushchev's suggestion that the post of secretary general be abolished and replaced with a three-man Soviet-style "presidium."

He said he would rather see his office "break" while upholding impartiality in world affairs than "drift on the basis of compromise."

Surprise Address

Hammarskjold delivered a surprise address to the opening session of the General Assembly today after a weekend in which Western and neutralist leaders aligned themselves on his side.

When Hammarskjold finished speaking, Khrushchev, livid with anger, began to pound his desk in fury to express his dissent. Members of the Communist delegation joined in.

In minutes the Communist pounding sounded like an anvil chorus.

Nehru Backs Dag

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India was one of the first big neutralists to support Hammarskjold against the Soviet attacks and met with Hammarskjold before the speech.

Khrushchev pounded so hard it sounded as if his desk would be destroyed and kept it up till the half minute ovation subsided.

Nehru turned around and regarded him with complete astonishment.

Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, sitting behind Khrushchev, did not applaud.

K's Proposal Unpopular

But the wild applause of the other delegates showed plainly Khrushchev's proposals were very unpopular with most of them.

Hammarskjold said the secretary general must be guided by principles of independence and impartiality in any world dispute.

"Such an attitude which has found expression in the U.N. charter may at any stage become an obstacle for those who work for a particular aim."

He said if the office becomes a "stumbling block" for any country or group, criticism will result.

"Such criticism strikes at the very office and the concept on which it is based," he said. "I would rather see the office break (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Township Democrats Hear Ike Blasted By Senator Clark

Before a capacity audience of spirited Democrats attending the sixth annual Bristol Township Democratic dinner Saturday evening at the edgely fire hall, Sen. Joseph S. Clark blasted "the do-nothing Eisenhower administration," while James A. Michener, Pulitzer prize-winning author and chairman, Citizens for Kennedy and Johnson, spoke on his first and impressive meeting with the Democratic standard-bearer, John F. Kennedy.

Clark, defending the right of Kennedy to blast away at the Eisenhower foreign policy, quoted Robert Taft, "the former Republican Mr. Big," in making his point.

Drawing laughter and heavy applause, Clark scored the Eisenhower administration and its candidate for the stands they have taken in foreign policy, area redevelopment and unemployment. Clark promised that one of the first things Senator Kennedy would do "is to put men back to work."

Michener Talks

Michener, in his first major appearance as chairman of the citizen's group, spoke on his first meeting with Kennedy back in 1947 in Indonesia. "Here was Jack Kennedy, on his own, unpublicized and on his own expense account, between sessions in his first year in congress, making a trip to all the trouble spots of the world finding out the problems of the people because he wanted to know," Michener said.

Lauding Kennedy's courage during the war for "performing one of the most remarkable feats of heroism in the South Pacific," Michener said that "the day Kennedy made his speech for the freedom of Algeria was the day I decided that I would work for his election if I had to push a wheel-barrow from house to house in Bucks County."

3 Charged With Stealing Cigarettes

Three Lower Bucks County youths were arrested over the weekend on charges of stealing cigarettes from the Sun Ray drug store in the Country Club shopping center and released on $500 bail for a further hearing by Justice of the Peace William Oettinger, Middletown Township.

The three were John F. Neuls, 19, 70 Forsythia Drive, Levittown; Edward Tina, 35 Shoemaker Drive, Bristol Terrace II, and James Fralin, 829 Court E, Bristol Terrace II. Tina and Fralin were employees of the drug store.

According to Martin Katzman, manager of the store, two of the youths were overheard discussing the theft of the cigarettes, apparently a cardboard box containing several cartons, by a Middletown Township police officer. Katzman was unable to estimate the amount of value of the stolen cigarettes.

Sgt. Anthony Fergione of the Middletown police signed the complaint against them.

Tullytown Slates Alert

Wailing Civil Defense sirens will signal Tullytown Borough's first major test alert scheduled tomorrow night. Vehicle and foot traffic will not be stopped during the alert.

CD activities, simulating a fall-out condition, will be directed by Mrs. Margaret Connor, borough CD director. Operations will be conducted from Borough Hall on Route 13.

Here is the siren schedule: 7:30 p.m. alert alarm; 7:34 p.m. "Take cover," 7:40 p.m., "all clear."

CD officials scheduled to attend the exercise include Colonel A.M. Heritage, county CD director, J. Russell Fell, county CD executive administrator, and George H. Barrows, Public Affairs Officer, Region Two, Federal CD Administrations, Olney, Md. Borough Councilmen and Burgess Charles S. Mitchell will serve as official hosts.

Participating in the exercise will be the Tullytown police and fire departments, the Bucks County Rescue Squad, Boy Scouts and CD personnel. Mobile communication units will cover the borough and report on the siren's effectiveness.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain walked in late at 11 a.m. and missed the unscheduled Hammarskjold speech. He arrived as President Antonin Novotny of Czechoslovakia began a speech attacking American U2 flights.

A few minutes later President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic arrived. He sat directly across the aisle from Macmillan, glanced in his direction but gave no sign of recognition.

Hammarskjold said that time after time the United Nations has faced situations in which a wrong move would have favored one party or another.

"To permit this to happen would be contrary to the letter and spirit of the charter," he said. He told the delegates the U.N. Congo operation "is your operation" and that this would be true whether an African or Asian nation were in command or another country held the reins.

"There is nothing in the charter which puts responsibility of this kind on the shoulders of the secretary-general or makes him master," he said. "The Security Council gave this mandate to the secretary-general."

"A week ago, the General Assembly requested the secretary-general to continue to take vigorous action. Indeed this is your operation, gentlemen. It is for you to decide what you want done."

"I am grateful for advice, but if none is forthcoming, then I have no choice but to follow my own convictions, guided by the principles to which I have just referred."

Attacked Dag's Policies Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev attacked Hammarskjold's Congo policies last week, demanding that his job be abolished and replaced by a three-man secretariat in which the Communist member could exert a veto.

Neutralist nations generally lined up with the West in voicing dismay over the move, not only because of their respect for Hammarskjold but because under Khrushchev's plan the Communists could cripple effective U.N. action almost at will.

The Soviet leader's proposal appeared to be the opening gambit in a long campaign against Hammarskjold for refusing to inject the U.N. force in the Congo's internal affairs and support Soviet-favored Patrice Lumumba.

Library Tax Issue Being Explained

The Federated Library Development Committee has arranged a series of 25 speaking engagements before civic and social organizations and PTA's to explain the reason for the proposed library tax referendum.

Fight Threatens End Of Boro-Burl Series

Bristol student body stayed out of the melee. Principal David L. Hertzler of Bristol High today commended the entire student body for its good conduct.

Followed Bristol Bout Despite the high feelings which attend the game, Hertzler said, no aftermath ever had followed them. Hertzler said that similar high feelings attend many football games, particularly those played in a metropolitan area such as Burlington.

Mignoni, who played football at Bristol High himself from 1934 to 1937, said that similar stonings have occurred with frequency both relations in 1937 and their continuation in 1943.

After the game in 1937, he said, Burlington fans followed the Bristol team all the way to the boat then used to transport to players to the game, tossing rocks until the boat was out of range.

Davis, a former Burlington student, was arrested and the police finally quieted this mob. The stoning continued, however, and the bus with the Bristol band in it was struck several times.

No Bristol players, students or bandmen were injured, however.
